Erin is continually amazed by the infinite nature of energy medicine and how it nurtures all areas of her life. In 2007, she received her Reiki Master certification in England from William Rand, Director of the International Center for Reiki Training. She loves providing people with tools that empower them on their healing journey. Erin is also a Reconnective Healing Practitioner and Sound Healer. She is currently studying Shamanism and weaving those teachings into her sessions. Her rich experiences, training and understanding of diverse modalities and of the new science on healing provide a solid foundation for her to support students and clients in profound healing & lifestyle transformations.

Erin also facilitates workshops and offers staff in-service training on various wellness topics. She sees clients at her studio in Duluth, MN

Create the World and Life You Want to Live!

Usui Reiki Ryoho

Reiki is a transformative healing practice that promotes physical, mental, emotional and spiritual harmony. The term Reiki refers to both the energy itself and the healing practice developed in Japan by Mikao Usui in 1922. Anyone can learn and benefit from Reiki. Whether you are learning Reiki for self-care and personal growth or to share with others, Erin's training is a wonderful introduction to energy medicine, the latest research, meditation techniques and a community of like-hearted people.

Reiki may help you:
